The Health System Enhancement Project is a joint effort by the Government of Sri Lanka and the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to ensure a healthier nation by supporting the development of a more responsive and comprehensive primary health care system. The project will enhance planning and delivering of essential primary health care services to geographically and socioeconomically deprived populations of Central, North Central, Sabaragamuwa, and Uva Provinces. The project will also strengthen the health information system and disease surveillance capacity of the country, in addition to supporting policy development and capacity building.
